

Dear Girls, Dear Guys: A Relationship Advice

Many ladies and gentlemen have been in toxic and unhealthy relationship and are scared to leave for fear of starting all over again. Many do this with hope that their partner will change whereas they dont know that humans rarely change- we only adjust temporally. On that premise this book is an eye opener to all you who think that it will be catastrophic to leave him/her. Believe me when I say that is better you leave that relationship that have no future than to be waiting in hope for a happy ending all to no avail. He keeps maltreating you; he keeps tormenting you; he keeps abusing you; he keeps making you feel inferior, he keeps making you regret knowing him; he keeps comparing you with his ex, he keeps telling you he regret knowing you; he keeps letting you feel that you are not good enough for him. How long do you think you will continue like that, how long can you continue lying to yourself that it will be alright, how long can you continue having a swollen face all because of blows from him, how long can you continue to say the word I am sorry even when he offended you. How long? How long..? The time for that change is now- do it and you will be glad you did. Sincerely, A guy that truly cares, Anthony Ogwurumba
