

A Hearts Home

1746, India Born in England and raised in India by her father after her mothers untimely death, Asyra has been ostracized from her small village most of her life. News of her impending marriage arranged by her grandmother back in England only serves to confuse her further about who she is and where she fits in. When Madras is attacked by the French before Asyras ship sails, she must pretend to be the wife of her grandmothers agent, who happens to be the elder brother of her intended. Can she move beyond prejudice to find her place in the world?
