

Tales of Ratiocination The First Detective Stories

Detective fiction is widely considered to have begun in 1841 with the publication of The Murders in the Rue Morgue, a short story by Edgar Allan Poe featuring the first fictional detective, the eccentric and brilliant Auguste Dupin. In this story Poe set up a plot formula that has been used by almost all murder mystery writers ever since. This is a collection of all three of Poe's mystery stories including; The Murders in the Rue Morgue - The Mystery Of Marie Roget and The Purloined Letter.
