

Hidden Perception

Kayce Asher is the Creative Director for Emerson Thurgood in New York. After her last relationship, she's more than a little hesitant about dating again. Texanna Dilworth is a photographer who is the complete opposite of Kayce—tomboyish, outspoken, and not afraid of letting her know she's interested. Just when she's willing to give Tex a chance after a trip to Provincetown, someone turns Kayce's life upside down. Her time is divided between her budding romance with Tex, her ex Lora who wants her back, and trying to figure out who's stalking her and why. Sometimes we think we know someone, but we only know the perception they've created. A suspenseful lesbian romance novel.
