

Luvin My Gangsta

Meet Harvey Townsend, one of Washington D.C.s richest, most powerful and influential men. He is also ruthless and not to be played with. Harvey is a man about his business, and he doesnt have a problem taking out anyone who causes troubles in his circle, including those closest to him. Harvey runs a tight ship, but what happens when his crew starts to slack in their duties? What happens when his right hand man causes him to lose big money in the game? As good as Harvey has it, things start to go awry when he orders a hit on his right hand man, Pierce. Pierce has been Harveys buddy and right hand for years, but his sudden lack of attention has Harvey on a death trip that could cost him his life. He already knows the type of man that Harvey is, and that being pushed the wrong way could have disastrous effects on him, but when he misses a pick up because of miscommunication that wasnt his fault, Harvey orders the hit to take him out. How could he want to kill one of the closest friends he has? Martez is one of Harveys up and coming goons. He moves up the ladder quickly and has no problem knocking other goons off to get there. But will he be able to continue his partnership with Harvey when the welcome aboard special becomes his every day snack? McLanie is Harveys assistant who he pimps out to any and everyone willing to pay the right price. Shes very beautiful and just as smart. So what happens when she suddenly starts fooling around with one of Harveys goons? Find out what really goes on in the most powerful city in the United States when the peoples chosen candidate decides he wants to end their lives
