

Reason to BE: Remembering the Sacred Within (STOP BECOMING - BE WHO YOU ALREADY ARE)

Feeling Separate is the beginning of a particular type of mental illness and it is consuming the globe infecting everyone. This mental illness that everyone suffers can be labeled a form of schizophrenia, bi-polar, manic, depression, mentally disturbed, retarded and any other dis-ease can be connected to this condition of thinking and feeling like we are separated from God Especially if you have been labeled ill by the religious social society! All religions that would teach separation from God sets us up for failure. We already humanly remain in constant Repair of ourself. This mentality that something is wrong with us keeps us in perpetual pain, familiar pain. It could be time to take another look at our insanity and why we play the game to be sane. I make this bold statement because of the God Loves Me God Loves Me Not syndrome lived by all who engage in a punishment as a training program from God. Teaching people to reach outside of themselves for the Love of God in insanity. This duality thinking destroys the heart of mankind and for lack of knowledge suffer constantly.

The answer is within. The answer is Divine Oneness. Love that no man can hinder any longer once this revelation has been received. No man can take it away it is your and yours alone. It is magical when the mind returns to the heart. God lives within and is all love! Our main disease is that man and woman have decided that other people have more insight to truth than they do. Teachers, preachers, mothers, fathers, gurus, there are so many to choose from. Anything or anyone we believe knows and understands us better than we understand ourselves. Trusting our own heart is the walk! Trusting God within is the answer. How long will we take another's opinion over ours? Why don't we have more respect for ourselves? Why do we continue to punish ourselves so harshly? How can we break the cycle of hate within? The answer to this and so much more lives inside our own heart space. How dare us trust our own heart? Who do we think we are? Stability comes when we come to a place of Love within, trust within; even in the face of so called failure. It is time to renew our mind and BE transformed. No more split personality! We can be free with one simple understanding. The ONE that lives within you is the one that loves you more than anything and can be trusted. We can learn to hear a different dimensional voice, that voice is inside of you. Once we remove the old belief systems and release our greatness; a NuClear Grace moves into our heart and life can begin in the most healthy of ways. Do not continue to seek your life away, you are looking for YOU! One of the greatest truths that Guy Finley helped me see that changed my life was this: The Seeker and the Sought after are ONE! Unconditional love was not easy to come by, and there is a great true story behind the story, but once understood will free you to live the life you have always known was yours to have. BE good to yourself. Take back what was given to you, your BIRTHRIGHT Remember the Sacred Within
