

ChironTraining Volume 6: 2010

After seventeen years of dealing with violent criminals and a year as a contractor in Iraq, whats the next step? Time to do something really scary: Start a business. In 2010, Rory goes on the seminar circuit, writes and publishes and, as always, tries to write things out of his head. About teaching, about protection, about the emotional and psychological dimensions of conflict. ChironTraining Volume 6 is the sixth collection of posts from the blog. As always, most of the material is available for free at: chirontraining.blogspot.com The e-book has added material and commentary.
