

LikeThe Radiance of the Sky. Chapters in the Reception History of the Zohar and the Construction of its Symbolic Value (Hebrew) (Hebrew Edition)

Like the Radiance of the Sky is published in collaboration with the Institute Yad Izhak Ben-Zvi for the study of Sephardic and Oriental Jewish communities. The Zohar literature includes texts that were apparently written by several authors in the Castillia region in the end of the 13th and the beginning of the 14th century. Shortly after it appeared, the Zohar literature was considered as a part of the literary piece the Book of Zohar and was attributed to the Tanna Rabi Shimon Bar Yochai. The Zohar was granted positive evaluations that gave it status of an authoritative and sacred text but it was also considered composition of a literary value and historical importance. It received as well negative evaluations, was described as forged text, poor and immoral. In addition to the copying, printing, interpreting and teaching of the Zohar and its incorporation in the Jewish prayer and ritual, there were historical and philological argumentations that criticized the theory of the Zohar's origins; a number of polemic, parodic and satiric writings objected to its holiness and value. Prof. Husss book requires looking at these different aspects of the Zohar: its acceptance, construction of its symbolic value, crystallization of its holy writings, their distribution, interpretation, authoritative character, as well as the critical and polemic approaches, questioning its value.
