

The Portrait

The Portrait by L.M. Somerton Can shy, submissive Tristan become dominant enough to rid himself of a malevolent ghostly rival and find his happily ever after? When Tristan Lindsay takes a job cataloguing the library at Faversham Park, home of rock star Marcus Balen, he also accepts a role as companion to Balens artist son, Garrick. Garrick is beautiful and talented. Hes also demanding and infuriating. He uses Tristan as an unwilling model, shamelessly manipulating the shy boys emotions to draw out his submissive tendencies. Drawn into the enigmatic artists world, Tristan discovers a side of himself that he didnt realise existed. Although afraid of his own feelings, he learns to trust Garrick and falls deeply in love. But Garrick has a secret that could tear them apart. A ghostly rival objects to Tristans presence in Garricks life. As the spectres malevolence increases, the young lovers must search for clues to the haunting and find a way to exorcise the jealous ghost. What they find leads them down a path that challenges the dynamics of their relationship. Will their love be strong enough to overcome its supernatural opposition, or will there be no happily ever after? L.M. Somerton About the Author: Lucinda lives in a small village in the English countryside, surrounded by rolling hills, cows and sheep. She started writing to fill time between jobs and is now firmly and unashamedly addicted. Her husband and daughter tolerate the constant tapping away but dont know exactly what she writes!
