

Talking About Writing (VHS)

In Craft Lessons, Ralph Fletcher and JoAnn Portalupi write, Writing conferences can be difficult to manage, and its tempting to omit them from the workshop, but these one-to-one interactions are crucial. Writers need response, not only from their peers but from us as well. In this two-tape series we revisit Baileys Elementary school on the outskirts of Washington, DC, to watch and listen as accomplished teachers of students in grades 3 through 5 confer with students about their writing. Tape 1, The Essentials of Conferencing, covers a range of topics, including active listening, knowing your writers, management, predictable problems, and peer conferences. Tape 2, Refining Your Conference Skills, takes teachers deeper into the writing conference and shows how to help students build a writers toolbox, connect writing conferences to other parts of the workshop, raise the bar in a conference, and push your own learning by working with your colleagues. Taken together, these two tapes comprise an invaluable tool for becoming a more skillful writing teacher. Tape 1: The Essentials of Conferencing Tape 2: Refining Your Conference Skills
